ONE WAY

Forward . . . Through the Year

. . . we made plans and dreamed dreams . . . and often initiated the necessary courses of action to see them through to their fulfillment. We developed through superficially insignificant routine experiences . . . and we all tried at least one new thing. Through the year, each of us grew as a social being.

Forward . . .
Through Adversity

. . . there was found an opportunity to express our aggressions and release
our tensions in a socially acceptable manner.
In so doing, we either learned new skills, or gained self-satisfaction and peer recognition in attempting to meet the challenge of opposition.
Through adversity,
we were afforded a temporal diversion from academic and personal concersn, and at the same time, found new areas in which to excel.

Forward . . . Through Academics

. . . we were presented with ideas, out of which naturally arose questions and the necessity of problem solving. We sought for answers either alone in books or with the help of peer or administrative friends. Each of us acquired and utilized our new insights in a unique way. Through academics, we were made less vulnerable to the whims of worldly change, through increased capacity to direct our emotion and intellect toward the best interests of Man.

Forward . . .
Through Activities

. . . we were required to maintain mental and physical vigilance in order to meet group and individual wants and needs. The eagerness with which we pursued an activity determined the meaning which it held in our lives; outcomes were generally a record of our relative degrees of diligence. Through activities, we grew, exerting influence upon our college and our community.

Forward . . . Through Relationships

. . . we redefined ourselves in reference to others.
Group association helped us to assimilate and order the contributions which others had to make to our lifestyle, and those which we could give to enhance the lives of others.
The momentous influence of our interaction was especially evident in times of personal satisfaction or frustration when sharing was discovered to modify the dimensions of either emotion.
Through relationships,
we ideally learned to see the world through eyes other than our own and to evaluate it with an added sense of perspective.

Spring Provides New Awakening

Spring brought the rejuvenation of nature as well as social life on campus. Formals every weekend helped change the pace from winter doldrums to spring happenings. An unusual spell of rainy weather dampened some of the spring spirits, especially spirits of baseball fans. Anticipation of graduation rose to a fever pitch among seniors, and the greening of the campus called many students to study outdoors.

Cast of "Invalid" Wins Awards

"Imaginary Invalid" showed much student involvement. All the costumes were designed and made by Susan Poteet as her independent interim project. Mimi Joyner gained the 1973 "Apprentice Award" from her dual role in the play. It was quite a stroke of "genius" to cast the play's lovers as real-life lovers, Ken Carroll and Cathie Carter. Becky Fly received the 1973 "Best Supporting Actress" for her portrayal of Beline. The play, written by Moliere, was in the manner of Italian comedy.

"Teahouse" Requires Unusual Props

Lambuth students were amazed to see a group of Jackson National Guardsmen on campus, especially since they were carrying a full-size army jeep. However, the unit was only assisting the Theatre in setting up for "Teahouse of the August Moon." The production was set during the American occupation of Japan during World War II, and so authenic helmets and uniforms were needed. By consulting with the Embassy of Japan and Lambuth students Akemi Nakinshi and Keiji Akiyama, the cast was able to speak actual Japanese.

Loret Deaton Claims Title

Eighteen girls competed for the Miss Lambuth title last spring. The contest was held at Tigrett Junior High, and Mistress of Ceremonies was Judith Anderson. Special entertainment was provided by Miss Teenage Memphis 1970, Carol Cordell Coletta, and the Lambuth Stage Band with Danny Hollis at the piano. Talent included acrobatics, twirling, organ, piano, singing, dance, and a dramatic interpretation. Loret Deaton won the title with her organ version of "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Five Finalists Excel in Music

Loret Deaton, who represented West Hall, won the Miss Lambuth title with her talent on the organ. A music major from Jackson, Loret received a scholarship plus a chance to appear in the Miss Tennessee Pageant last June.

First maid, Ibby Seamen, represented Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society by singing "Ticket to Ride." Ibby is an elementary education major from Jackson. Representing Kappa Sigma fraternity, Teresa McClure was named second maid. Her talent presentation was singing "I Don't Know How to Love Him." Teresa is a chemistry major from Decaturville.

Helene Chapman, a music major from Covington, was chosen third maid. As Harris Hall representative, Helene sang "My Man" from "Funny Girl." Kappa Alpha fraternity sponsored fourth maid, Amy Tacker, from Humboldt. An elementary education major, Amy performed on the piano, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C-Sharp Minor."

Commencement Moves Indoors

156 Lambuth Seniors received diplomas in a ceremony moved into the Athletic Center because of inclement weather. The 125th Commencement had a guest speaker, David Kruidenier, president and publisher of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and chairman of the board of The Jackson Sun, Inc. Mr. Kruidenier spoke on the need for increased idealism among the nation's young adults.

Outstanding Achievement awards and scholarships went to Sylvia Y. McCullar for her 4.0 academic record, to Gayle Emro for the greatest service to the college in the opinion of the faculty, and to Ruth Ann Grant, Outstanding Senior, for the loyalty to the school.

Below: Mr. David Kruidenier addresses the assembly in the athletic center.

For her exceptional leadership, service, and scholarship, Ruth Ann Grant was presented the R. E. Womack Outstanding Senior Award. Dean Walter Whybrew introduced the candidates for the degrees, and President Wilder gave out the diplomas. Three seniors graduated summa cum laude, fourteen — magna cum laude, and eighteen cum laude. The commencement music was provided by the Lambuth touring choir directed by Dr. Jo Fleming.

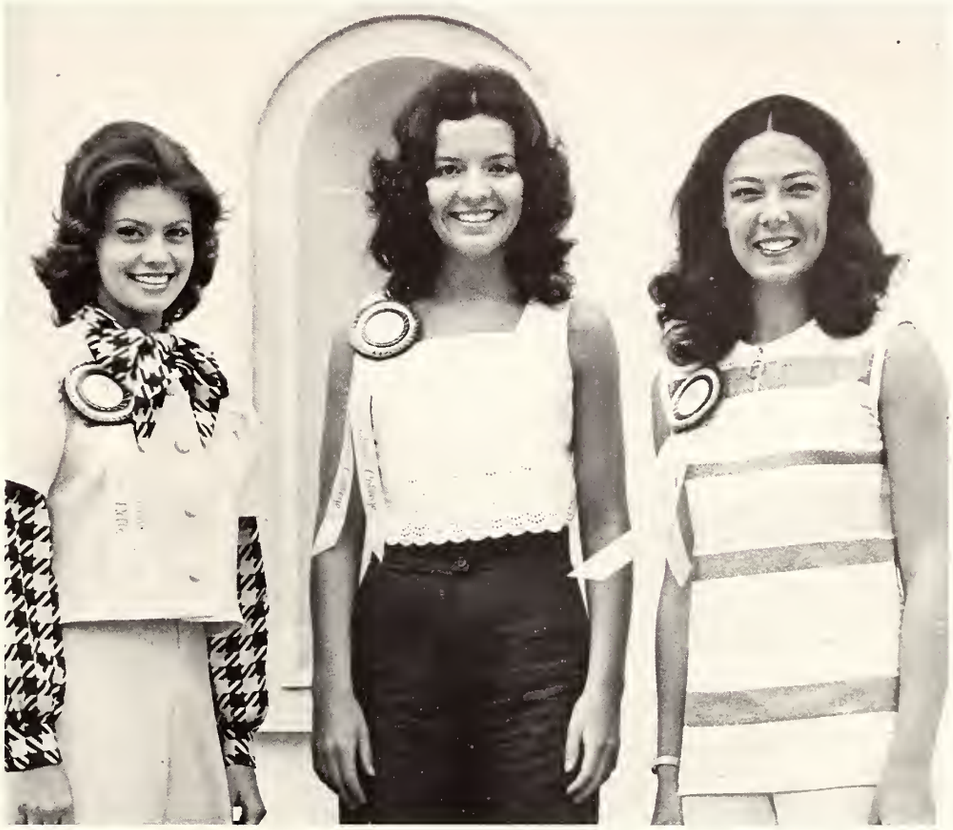

Summer Holidays Are Well Spent

Summer gave many students an opportunity to take extra courses, find part-time jobs, get a suntan, and of course, to goof off. In June, Lambuth hosted the thirty-seven contestants in the Miss Tennessee Pageant held in the Jackson coliseum.

1973-1974 School Term Begins

Freshman students were introduced to college life the first week. During orientation, faculty and upperclassman advisors aided the new students in making out class schedules as well as attempting to adjust to dorm life. President Wilder's cookout for freshmen on Sunday at his home climaxed the orientation period.

As upperclass students began arriving, the Big "L" spirit became evident. The traditional opening convocation and flag-raising ceremony marked the beginning of Lambuth's academic year. The usual hassles of class registration, such as long lines and cancelled classes, continued to plague students, but classes were able to begin on time despite the problems.

Rush Dominates First Week

Rush week ended with nearly a hundred Lambuth students pledging themselves to one of the Greek organizations. This year, rush was more compact because sorority and fraternity parties were simultaneous for the first time in several years.

Cheerleader tryouts were held later in the season. Fourteen women and seven men performed both individual stunts and group cheers in the competition. The student body as a whole watched the tryouts and voted for the ten-member squad.

Fall Promotes Extra-Curricular Activity

The fall term united students in their common concern over Watergate and their frantic interest in the Billie Jean King-Bobby Riggs contest/debate. Intramurals and Sigma Kapers added an extra atmosphere of competition and fun, and students found some time to relax on campus or at concerts before the pressure of the academic year got too far underway.

Dorm Living Requires Adjustments

Dorm life at Lambuth is quite an experience: stereos blasting, typewriters clicking, washing machines humming, phones ringing, water balloons flying, shaving cream squirting, maintenance men interrupting, alarms ringing, and dorm counselors inspecting. Residents can also remember surprise birthday parties, all-night study sessions, lonely weekends, open houses, and fussy roommates. All is a part of dorm living.

"Marigolds" Honors Special Guest

Serious drama kept the audience enraptured from the very beginning of "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds." The second performance of the 1973-74 Theatre season, "Marigolds" featured an all woman cast.

Special guest in the performance was Mrs. Wilma McCague, who played Nanny in the play. Mrs. McCague was the former chairman of the Drama Department at Lambuth.

The unique set was designed and built by the Stage Craft Class under the direction of Mr. Newton Neely.

Professionalism Added to Theatre

"Man of La Mancha" brought added professionalism into the Lambuth Theatre. Actors and actresses moved their own props. Students behind the scenes and on stage took a professional attitude toward their work as a result of the mixed ages of the cast drawn from faculty members, Jackson residents, and students.

The play was performed as written without intermission, a fact which contributed greatly to its dramatic effect. For the first time, all costumes were obtained from a professional company in New York.

Reasons for Alienation Probed

"Church and Society" was the theme of Focus, a period of special emphasis sponsored annually by the Campus Congregation. Of special importance this year was the fact that many of today's young adults feel alienated from the church.

Guest lecturers for Focus included Dr. Ernest Smith, head of the Division of Human Relations of the General Board of Christian Social Concerns. Visiting the campus for a second time because of his popularity was John Beecher, a "poet of prophecy and protest," who read and interpreted some of his poems.

The folk singing duo, "Dust and Ashes," provided a lighter side to the two-day program. Tom Page and Jim Sloan used original compositions to relay a Christian message.

Cultural Activities Increase

Two Committees helped insure that Lambuth students had a wide variety of cultural activities during the year. The Special Events Committee obtained Sahomi Tachibona, an expert on Japanese dance, and Hank Brannon, an Irish tenor from Murray State University. The Faculty Forum Committee was represented by such faculty members as Miss Joanna Higgs who gave a water color interpretation and Mr. Don Honeycutt who gave a recital on Romanticism in Music. Mr. Honeycutt was accompanied in a duet by his wife Marilyn.

Winter at the Big L brought sporadic weather this year. One week it was seven degrees — the next week it was seventy. Between the sixty-eight degree thermostat reading to save on energy and the faulty heating in the dorms, the occasional warm days were welcomed.

As the last days of winter creeped by, many students began planning for spring-break vacation, applying for summer jobs, and considering either losing or gaining weight. For the Greeks it was time for beginning plans for spring formals and car washes, and all looked forward to open car windows and dorm windows, and reflected upon the first winter of Nixon's energy crisis, the gas shortage, the falling stock market, and the talk of the President's impeachment.

Tree Trimming Party Highlights Christmas

Christmas Spirit at the "L" was launched with a Christmas dance in the Colonial Room. The first several weeks of December were interspersed with parties, last minute papers, and preparation for the end of the semester and Christmas at once. A tree-trimming party, held in the Colonial Room, and sponsored by the Freshman Class in order to gather money and food for the needy, drew many students together in the spirit of the season. December was a busy, rather hectic month, but most felt a sense of calm relief from the excited state of affairs when they heard music coming from the belfry of the Chapel and when they attended the Christmas Candlelight Service the Wednesday before exams.

Interim Committee Formed

In an attempt to generate more student interest on campus during the Interim period, a faculty-student committee was appointed to plan January activities. A tournament was set up involving faculty and students competing in racketball, pool and ping-pong.

Several classic movies were shown in the Theater; local folksingers were heard in the Hub; and the South Memphis Ballet Company gave a dance performance. Climaxing the four-week period was the first annual Interim Festival which featured a guitar concert, a women's lib symposium, and oral reports by students on social field work experiences and research on drug abuse.

On campus, some of the more unusual courses included learning to play the guitar, building a telescope, programming a computer, discussing the Women's Liberation Movement, and planning a meal for six. Off campus trips included visits to the Orient, New York, New Orleans, and Nashville.

Kathy Boone Crowned Homecoming Queen

Although the gas shortage threatened to discourage alumni from participating in the Homecoming activities, an almost overwhelming crowd was on hand to watch the Eagles snatch a 74-70 victory over the Hendrix Warriors. Before the game, the Homecoming royalty was presented and Kathy Boone was crowned queen.

Alumni activities included a luncheon, sorority and fraternity open houses, a banquet, and an invitation to the Homecoming Dance sponsored by the SGA with music by "1932 Ballroom Blues Band."

Sorority Displays Decorate Campus

During half-time of the Homecoming game, Sigma Kappa sorority was presented a tophy for the best Homecoming display. President Wilder announced the recipient of the annual Helen Coltrain Spirit Award, Grey Steed, given in loving memory of the woman who worked so hard to encourage spirit at the basketball games.

Homecoming activities began well before the actual basketball confrontation February 9. Wednesday night, Lambuth students were invited to enjoy dancing at Port Jackson. After a spirit bonfire behind the Theater, and a delicious buffet, Kaleidoscope gave a benefit performance for the Jackson Center for Enrichment and Development.

Frustrations Renew Second Semester

After a relaxing Interim, students found it hard to get accustomed to a busy class schedule, but a few tests discouraged any inclination toward laziness. Frigid January turned into a rather pleasant February, even though the groundhog saw his shadow on February 2.

Lambuth's Speech and Drama Department sponsored its annual Fine Arts Tournament, enjoyed by over 300 high school students from Tennessee and Kentucky. The 3-foot sweepstakes trophy was won by Putnam County High School.

Coach Bob "Hawk" Taylor Comes to Big "L"

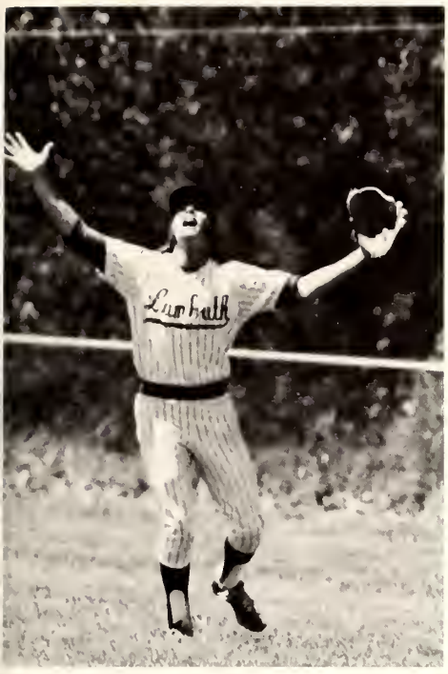

Lambuth's 1973 baseball team had a different "look" over last year: that of Coach Bob Taylor. Coach Taylor came to Lambuth from Murray State, after having played baseball in the major leagues.

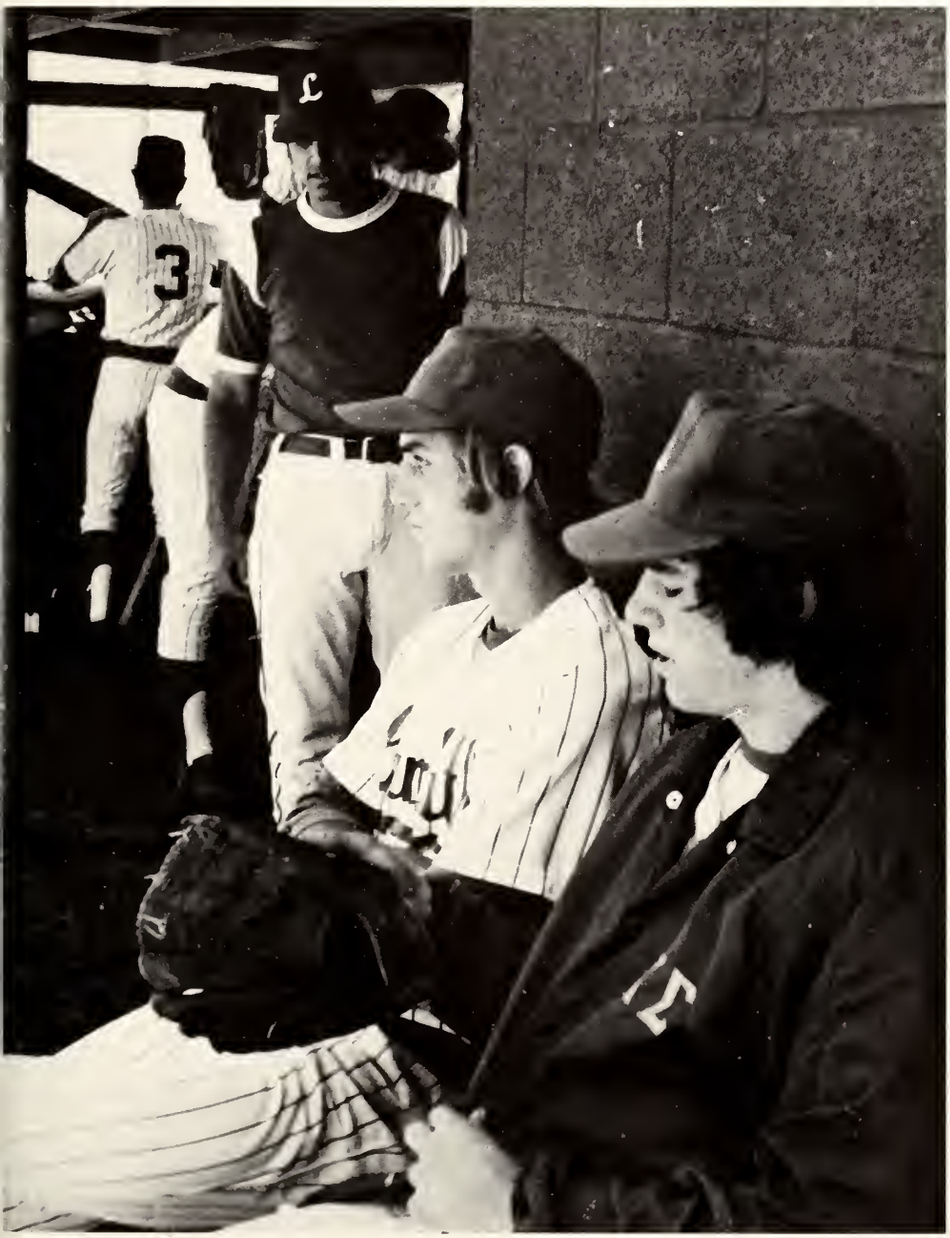

The '73 ball team did not do as well as the year before. Most of the trouble can be attributed to the fact of a new coach getting acquainted with his new ball club. Coach Taylor himself felt there were several factors which added to the woes of the team, the first being the inexperience of the ball club. During spring training, rainy weather kept the team from needed batting practice. Coach Taylor also had problems with playing his men out of their positions. But he feels he has this problem corrected now and is looking forward to the coming season.

Eagles Post 8-17 Record

During the first half of the season, the Lambuth baseball team won 7 out of 12 games played. These victories included wins over Southwestern, Lawrence, Wooster, CBC, UTM, and Bethel. But after this last win, the Eagles lost 12 straight games in a row. During their last game of the season, the team made a good showing by rallying and scoring a decisive victory over Austin Peay of 11-5. The Eagles overall record ended as 8 wins and 17 losses, whereas their conference record was 2 wins and 6 losses.

Gary Townsend was one of the outstanding players on the team. He not only had the highest batting average of .292 but also had the most RBI's with a total of 17.

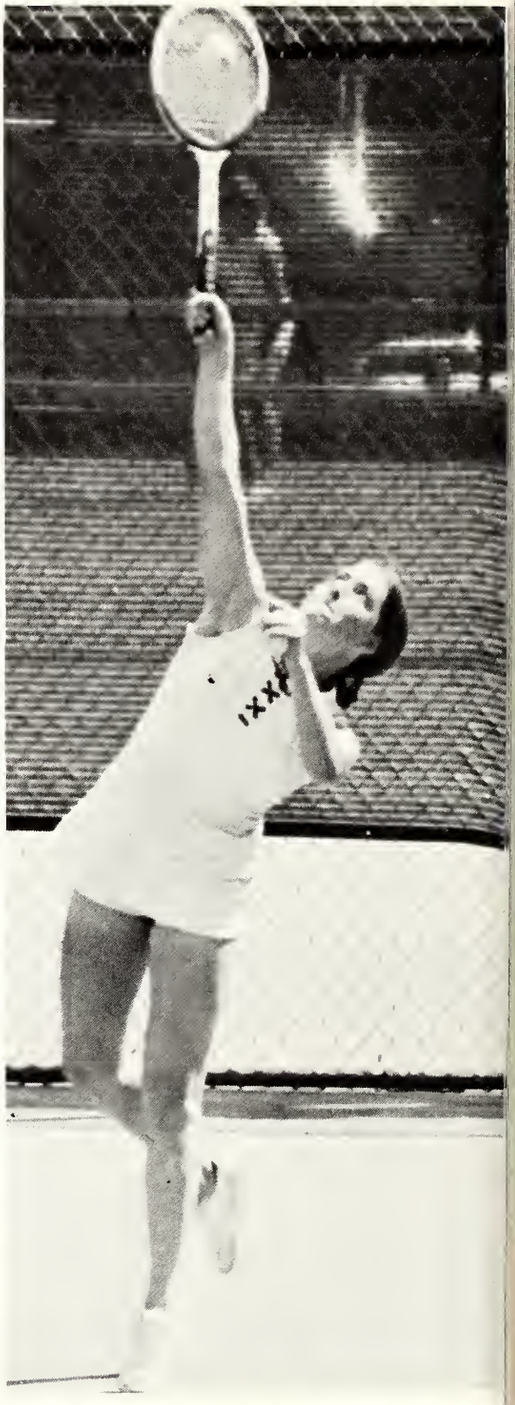

Top: Gary Townsend awaits the pitch.

Weather Dampens Women's Tennis Season

Lambuth's Women's Tennis Team experienced another disappointing season. Because of bad weather in the spring, the girls were unable to practice and play many of their scheduled matches. Four out of the eight matches were rained out, and the other four were lost, including a close defeat to Southwestern.

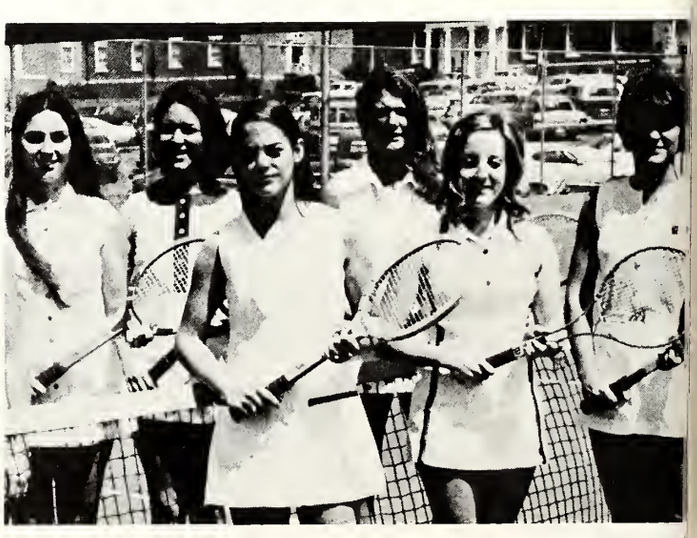

In addition to the weather, the girls were hampered by the return of only two varsity players, junior Carol Harris and sophomore, Betsy Waterhouse. New to the squad were freshmen Jane Bliven, Carol Hartz, Bonnie Massa, and Kathy Turner. Coach Pam Threadgill believed the 1972-73 season to be a building year and has great expectations for the new season.

Men's Tennis Team Develops Experience

With five of the six members returning from last year's squad, the Men's Varsity Tennis Team posted a record of six wins and eight losses. Coach Roscoe Williams felt there was no "one" outstanding player, but that the entire team exhibited good versatile ability. The doubles teams showed a marked improvement because of this factor.

It is the feeling of Coach Williams and the team members that the sport is becoming a more aggressive game. Because of the loss of only one senior, Larry Crawford, the team is extremely optimistic about the new season.

New Coach for Golf Team

The 1973 Golf Team was led by a new coach, John Ledbetter, a Professional at Hidden Valley Country Club. All five team members returned from the previous year. The team evened out their season with six wins and six losses, giving them a conference record of 4 and 2. They placed fourth in the V.S.A.C. Tournament. Junior Denny Murray shot the lowest round of the season at Hidden Valley Country Club with a 4 under par, 68.

Longer Season for Woman's Volleyball

Lambuth's 1973 Woman's Varsity Volleyball team consisted of four returning sophomores plus three new sophomores and five freshmen, a young and inexperienced squad. The girls played more than twice as many games as the year before and participated in three times as many tournaments. Their record was an overall of 16 wins and 13 losses.

Injuries Plague Eaglettes

Although the women's varsity basketball team ended its season with a 10-9 record, the year was more successful than indicated because three of the games were lost by less than three points. Coaching the "Eaglettes" were Grey Steed and Mrs. Norma Ellis.

Several of the team's key scorers graduated last year, so new talent had to be developed. Junior Becky Turner was the team's outstanding rebounder and high scorers were Becky and Loret Deaton. Other starters included senior Carol Harris, sophomores Kathy Turner and Maxine Shackleton, and freshman Lynn Wyatt.

Injuries plagued the Eaglettes much of the season. Lynn Wyatt tore ligaments in her ankle, Maxine Shackleton sprained her ankle, and Marline Shackleton sustained a bruised larynx.

Team Effort

Invaluable for Success

Success was due to several factors. The three starting seniors, Kenny Haun, 6-6, Tommy McCalls, 5-9, and Bill Mannix, 6-2, had played together for three years. Rickey Delk, a 6-4 sophomore, led the Eagles in shooting with an average of 23.6 points per game and in rebounding with an average of 9.5 per game.

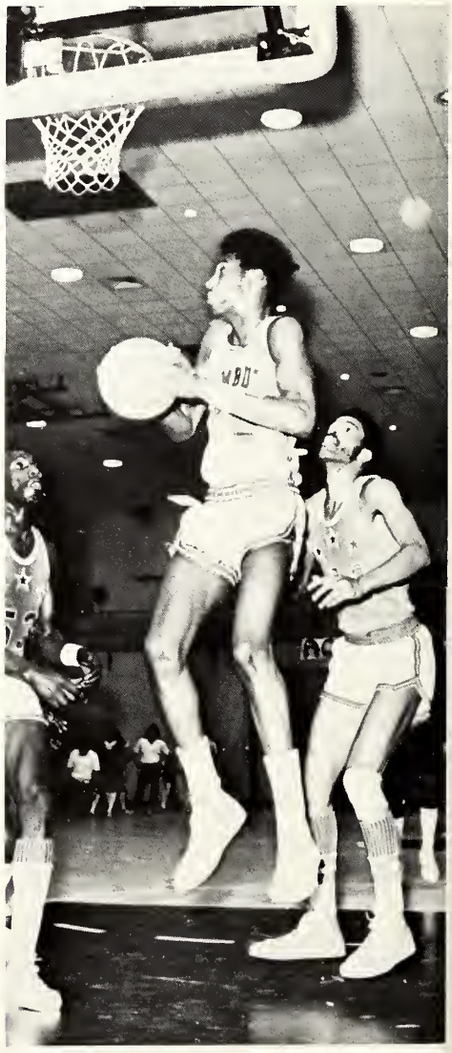

Godfrey Patterson, a 6-7 sophomore, led the team in field goal percentage with 52.7%, pulling down 8.9 rebounds per game. The highest percentage free throw shooter was Kenny Haun, charity tosses for 73%, hitting 27 of 37.

Also vital to the winning team was its outstanding bench members. Vincent Harvell, a 6-4 freshman, played in all 25 games, grabbing key rebounds and gaining valuable game experience. In addition, senior Jerry Gardner, Sky Sylvester, Brock Redden, David Henry, and freshman Kent Prokop saw a considerable amount of action.

Spirit Renewed at Lambuth

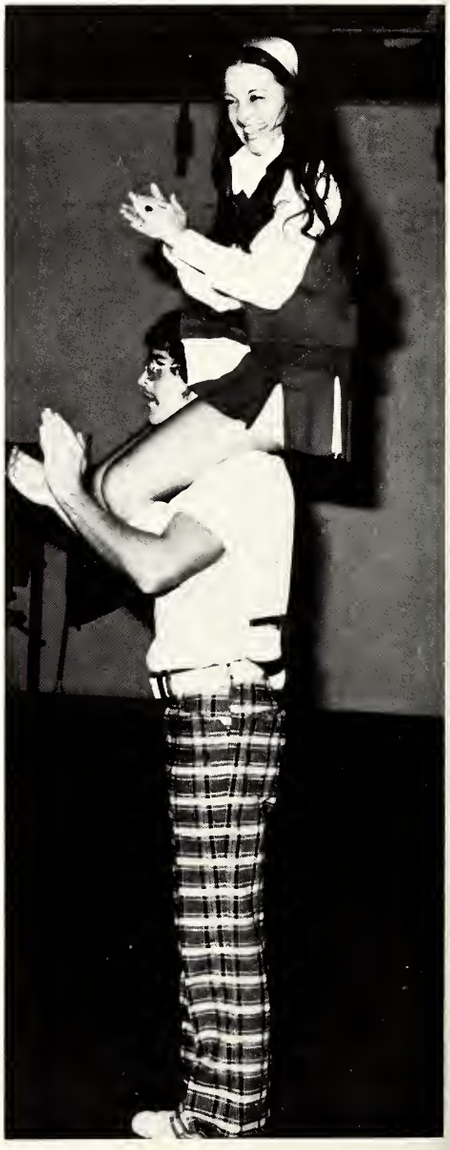

Enthusiastic Eagle supporters rallied to back the team. The Spirit Committee for the S.G.A. publicized home games, obtained buses for away games, and encouraged campus organizations to sponsor games. Membership in the Tip-Off Club was near-capacity.

Lambuth College was chosen by the Volunteer State Athletic Conference to host the championship tournament in late February. Eleven teams across the state vied for the championship title.

Competition Makes Intramurals Exciting

More than ever this year, there are surprisingly more people participating in Intramurals. This fact is especially true in the individual events such as ping pong and tennis. There have been a few changes made in Intramural ruling over last year. For example, to equalize the team, all varsity players, both men and women, are unable to participate in both varsity and intramural competition. Another rule change was that women's tennis was moved to first semester.

For the men, after flagball, Cross Country, and Archery, the KAs are in 1st place, with the DI and Kappa Sigs close behind. The women's events, archery, volleyball, and tennis, show Sigma Kappa leading and the DIs in 2nd place.

Rover Basketball Adopted

Basketball dominated the first part of the second semester intramural program. In order to make women's basketball more like the men's game, the Intramural Committee changed the half-court system to a rover style. In rover, two members of each team are allowed to travel full court while the other four players are stationary.

Even though rover basketball was more exciting to play, the change caused several problems with rules and officiating. Girls from each organization were responsible for calling certain games.

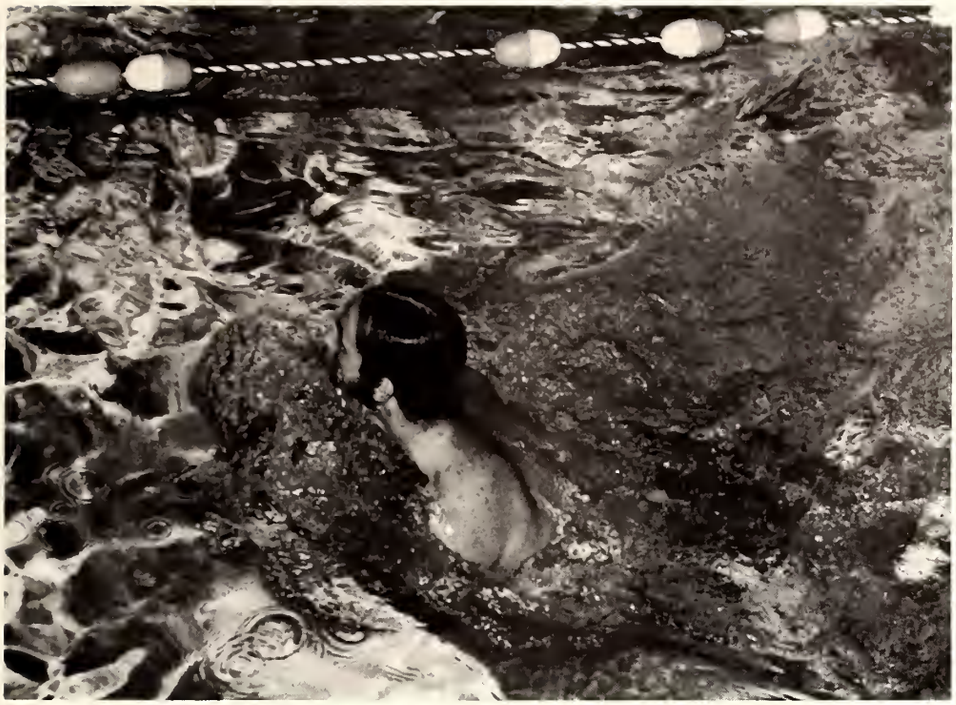

Late in the season, one-on-one competition and free-throw contests were held during half time of the games. If the two events are popular, they will be included next year as minor sports.

President Stresses Career Preparation

Realizing that students as a whole are more interested in planning for a career rather than in receiving a total liberal arts education, Dr. James Wilder, Jr. channeled his course-study by asking each professor to re-evaluate his course as it pertains to today's world.

He investigated the potentiality of more career-oriented programs. Some of the effects of this investigation have resulted in the organization of courses in hotel management, interior design, and law enforcement.

Lambuth Budget "In the Black"

Confronted with rising cost and the need to maintain a qualified faculty, the Lambuth College Board of Trustees raised tuition and board for the 1973-1974 school year. The increase enabled the professors to receive a much-needed raise and allowed the budget to be balanced without deficit for the first time in four years.

The trustees approved a change in the selection of the seven members of the Student Affairs Board of Trustees Committee. Instead of being appointed by President Wilder, the members will be elected by the SGA.

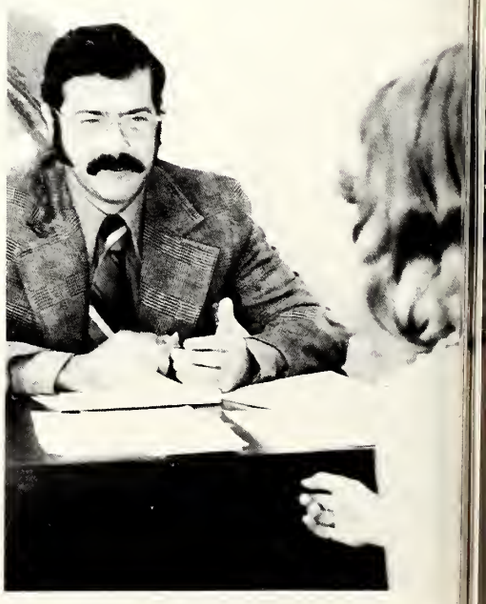

Four new members elected to the board are: Jimmie Lynn Ramsaur, Jackson; Jack Renshaw, Memphis; Rev. William P. Bailey, Jr., Paducah, Ky.; and Leonard C. Dunavant, Millington.

Public Relations Encourages Growth

Keeping local and hometown newspaper readers abreast of Lambuth activities is an important but often unheralded position, and the three P.R. staff members perform their jobs dutifully. Mrs. Mary Jo Mulherin was responsible for the newspaper coverage of college events as well as informing hometown newspapers about individual student honors.

Keeping alumni involved with school activities, Mr. Bryant Floyd served as the college's representative on the In-Town Chamber of Commerce, and functioned as advisor for "Harvest," a student recruitment group. Bobby Hart worked with both offices to secure publicity for all Lambuth sports events and to publish brochures for the major sports.

Growth of Library Continues

Attempting to become an integral part of the community, the staff of the Luther L. Gobbel Library initiated new programs. It used new approaches to acquaint professors with resource books, collected old histories of the college and community, and increased the total number of volumes, which has more than doubled in the past seven years.

Management Courses Added

Forever striving to provide a wider selection of courses for business majors, the Business Department initiated a new program this year in Hotel-Restaurant Management. In addition, an abbreviated course in computer data processing for faculty members was offered, both to give the faculty members a knowledge of computer processing, and to enable them to teach students how to use computers in their particular fields.

This spirit of change and improvement was underlined by the addition of Mr. James E. Golden to the Business Department faculty. Mr. Golden served capably as chairman of the department.

Broadening Viewpoint Typifies History Department

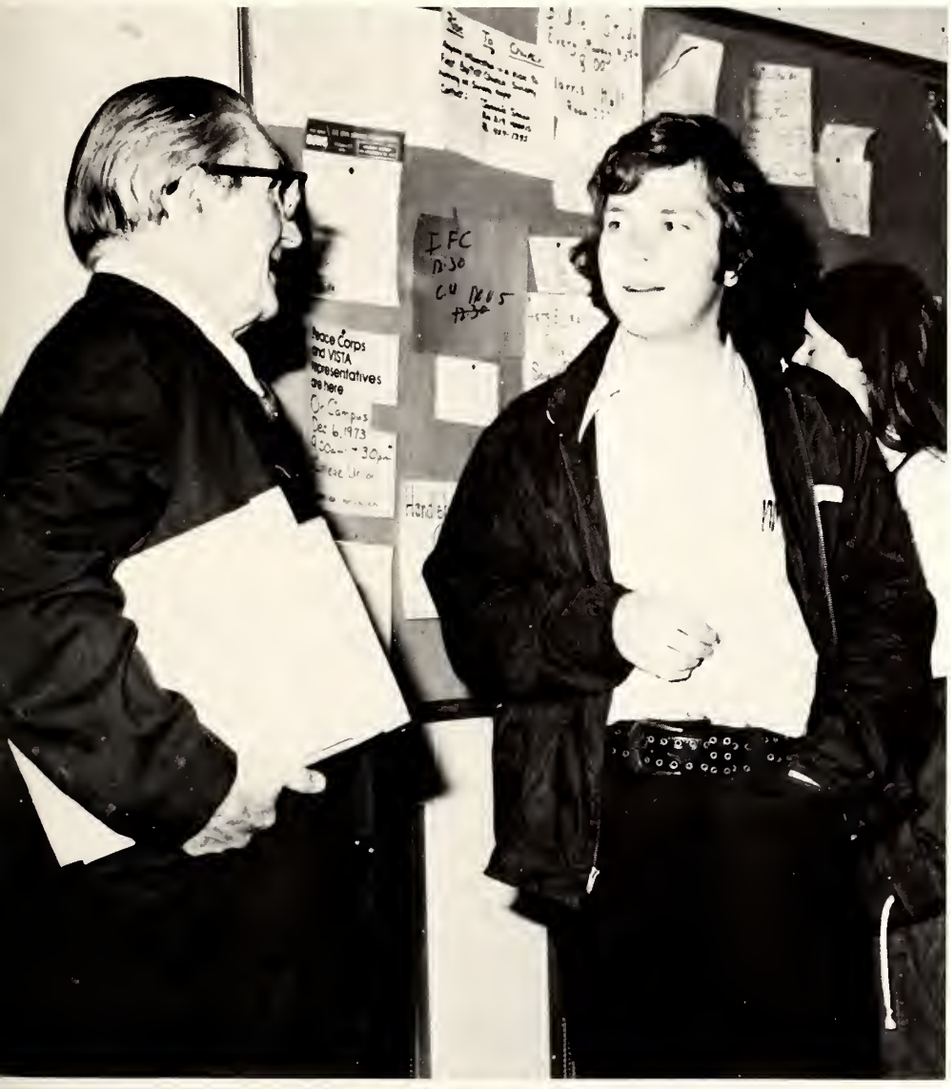

In step with the broadening attitude prevalent on campus this year, the History Department offered for the first time a new course in African History, taught by Dr. Coleman. The course presented a comprehensive view of the history of Africa, offering all students an opportunity to learn more about the heritage and culture of one of the world's largest continents.

Several field trips, which have become a traditional part of the history and political science program, were enjoyed by history students this year. Journeys to such places as the Pinson Mounds, Shiloh National Military Park, and Nashville, helped bring history and its events to life for interested students.

Sociology Diversifies Its Program

In an effort to generate more interest in the Sociology program, the Sociology and Family Development Department sponsored several new classes this year.

There now exist three possible majors in Sociology; Sociology itself, Social Work, and Family Development. The department also expanded its curriculum in order to allow more time for field instruction. The addition of Mrs. Madalyn Freund to the sociology faculty second semester of last year helped make this expansion possible.

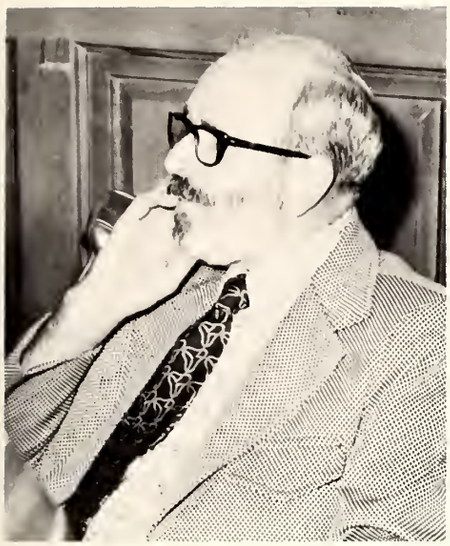

The Family Development Department, in the same spirit of expansion, offered for the first time a major in Interior Design. Courses within this major were taught jointly by Mrs. Nelle Cobb, and Mr. Larry Ray. Mrs. Jean Creasy was added to the faculty in this department, teaching courses in Food Principles, Meal Management, and Consumer Economics.

Practical Training Stressed in Education Department

Members of the Department of Education and Psychology provided leadership in several professional fraternities and community services throughout the 1973-1974 school year. Such services included participation in evaluation teams of the Southern Association of Schools, providing other educational and psychological consultative services, and assisting with educational programs at the local, state, regional, and national level.

The department offered majors in elementary education and psychology. Concentrations sufficient for state certification were also offered in secondary education, library science, special education, and kindergarten. The department worked closely with the Human Development Center, providing firsthand experience for students enrolled in the department.

An interesting evolvement from the January interim overseas workshop in education was the offering of a new course in Comparative Education which included on-site study of schools in three foreign countries. Graduate credit became available through a cooperating university.

Library Science Stresses Observation

An increasing number of students became Library Science majors this year. Many of those already certified as teachers seemed to feel it necessary to enhance their education with a degree in library science, both for their own use and also so that they may more fully instruct their students in the uses of the library.

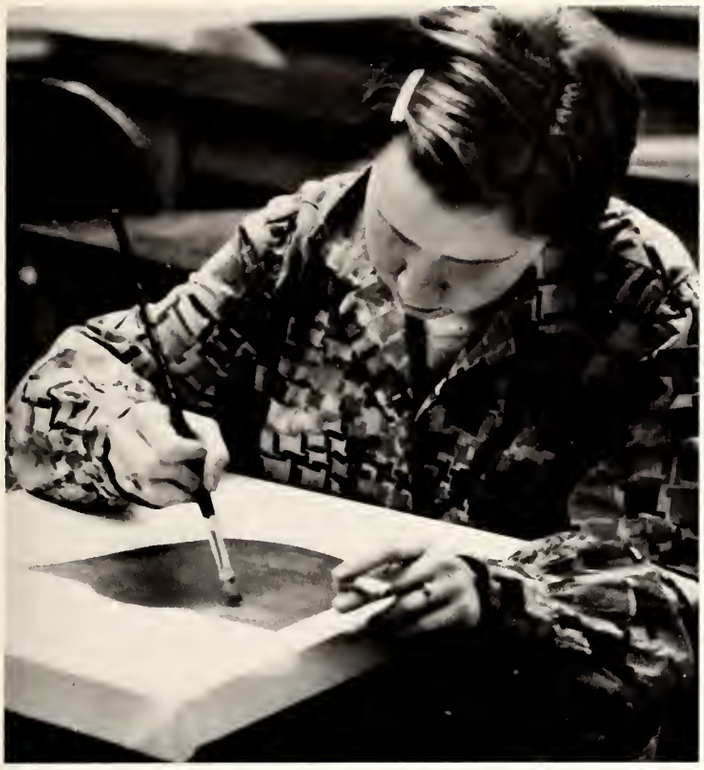

A practicum program, which enabled participants to work and observe in libraries in the surrounding area, was offered this year. This independent study program was utilized by the students according to their personal needs and preferences.

Interior Design Major Added

In cooperation with the Family Development Department, the Art Department sponsored a new major this year in Interior Design. This new major is strictly career-oriented, offering a useful apprentice program to Interior Design majors in which they may observe and work in various interior shops in this area. The Interior Design majors also enjoyed many field trips to lovely homes throughout West and Middle Tennessee during the year.

The Art Department sponsored a variety of art shows in the lobby of Jones Hall throughout the year. The first of these was a showing of watercolors painted by Miss Joanna Higgs, Assistant Professor of Art. In October, the department sponsored a print show and sale brought to Lambuth by a national company.

English Stresses Critical Evaluation

Self-evaluation of literature, especially as reflected in the works of great writers, was the main goal of the English Department. Freshman English and its importance to students, especially to those planning to make English their major, was this year a main consideration of the department.

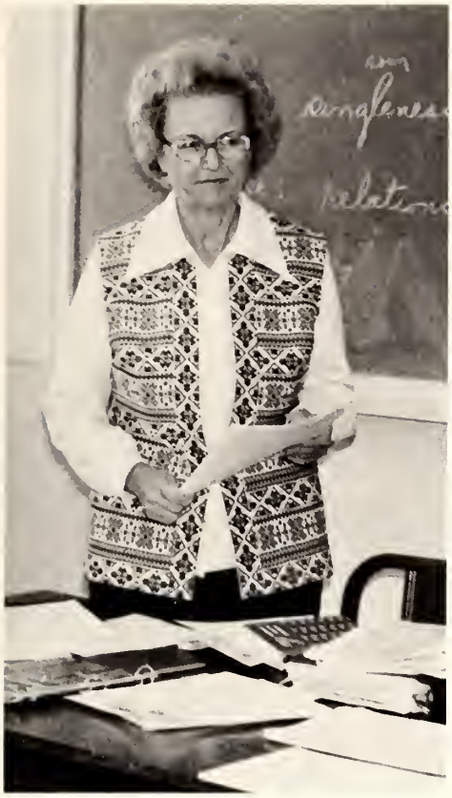

The English Department offered a wide variety of interim projects this year, dealing with such diverse subjects as Wagner's famous opera "Ring," the life of T. S. Eliot, a fundamental interim course to strengthen students in the areas of composition, and a comparative study of the poetry of Dylan Thomas and Bob Dylan.

Speech and Drama Sponsors Travel Interims

In order to help theater students become better acquainted with the drama of other areas of our country, and of several foreign countries, the Speech and Drama Department sponsored two different travel interims this January. Mr. Byrum, led his group on a theater tour of Washington, D.C. and New York City in conjunction with Miss Higg's art tour of these cities. Numerous Broadway plays were attended and some famous entertainers were met. Mr. Neely, in cooperation with Mr. Ray of the Art Department, led a theater tour of the Orient, visiting such cities as Tokyo, Hong Kong, and Bangkok.

Several changes were seen in the Speech and Drama Department this year, including the return of Mr. Sherril Cox, Speech Instructor. This summer, a summer stock company and theater school will be in operation for eight weeks, open to all those interested.

With the largest number of students in the history of the college, the Music Department was a busy place this year. There were more than thirty music majors, nine of whom were scheduled for graduation this year; and with the innovation of class lessons in piano and voice, a large number of students majoring in other areas were able to study in these classes, or to take private lessons in piano, voice, organ, or instruments.

In addition to the appearances made by ensembles from the music department, Dr. Fleming and Mr. Huneycutt made numerous recital appearances, publicizing the college.

Interim Receives Special Attention

Known for its interesting and diversified interim projects, the Religion and Philosophy Department offered a variety of unusual projects this January. One project, brought back from four or five years ago, was called "The Theological Implications of Country Music." The department sponsored a field trip to Nashville, where students met several country music stars.

A completely new project offered by Dr. Russell McIntire was entitled "Women's Liberation and Human Values," and dealt quite explicitly with the current women's liberation movement and its effect on our society. "Jesus Christ — Son of Man and Superstar," another new interim, dealt with how Christ has been portrayed by man through the centuries.

In keeping with Dr. McIntire's interim dealing with women's liberation was Dr. Davenport's new course called "Women and Theology," which offered a comprehensive view of woman's place in religion throughout history.

New Faculty Member Added

Mrs. Marian Jones, assistant professor of Spanish, joined the Language Department faculty last fall. Mrs. Jones this year taught courses in elementary and intermediate Spanish.

The Language Department offered several loosely-structured interim projects designed to investigate the art, customs, and history of several foreign countries. These projects were structured so that each student could pursue his individual interests.

P.E. Department Expands Program

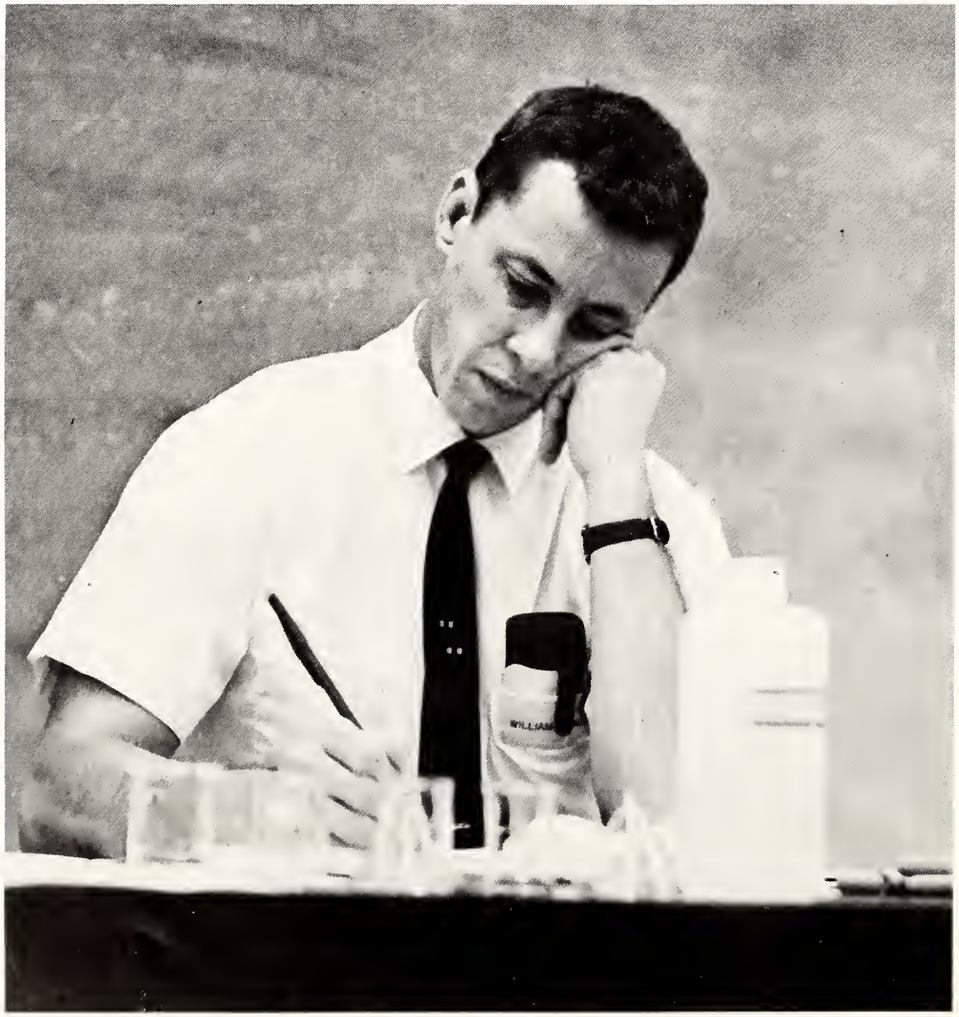

In accordance with state regulations, the Physical Education Department began planning several new courses for the future. These include courses in the physiology of exercise, kinesology, or bio-mechanics, athletic injuries, and tests and measurements.

After a year's absence, Mrs. Norma Ellis returned to the P.E. staff this year, teaching courses in swimming and badminton.

Interim projects concentrating on a wide variety of sports were offered this year. One project, taught by Mr. Roscoe Williams, consisted of a study of the art of fishing as practiced in the freshwater lakes and streams of West Tennessee. Other projects included a course in water safety instruction, a seminar of the game of baseball, and a study of basketball coaching methods.

History of Math Probed

Upon the combining of the Math and Physics Departments this year, Dr. Kenneth Yancey was appointed as head of the department.

Also several mathematics courses were offered. Some involved elementary principles whereas others such as calculus, advanced in difficulty. For the January interim, the department offered a course dealing with the history of Mathematics.

Greek Unity Stressed

Working together for the common goal of enlarging and improving all of the Greek organizations on campus, the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils sought ways to bring the groups closer together. This year, rush week for both fraternities and sororities was held the first week of classes. The Panhellenic Council approved the use of unlimited invitations to theme and preference parties by the four sororities.

The culmination of weeks of practice and preparation was evidence in Greek All-Sing as the groups competed for first and second place trophies. The money made from the event was given to the Jackson Center for Enrichment and Development.

Through the academic year, the Omega Omicron chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi celebrated several social activities: the annual Faculty Coffee, Pledge Party, Parents' Tea, Fun Retreat, Founders' Day, Christmas Party, Pledge Party for Actives, Alum Picnic, and Senior Banquet. With a concentrated group effort, the sisters acquired several campus honors, such as first place in Greek All-Sing.

Two members of Omega Omicron chapter served as cheerleaders, and three were selected for Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Other individual honors went to members chosen as Vice-President of the Student Government Association, President of Panhellenic, and President of the Junior Class.

Philanthropic efforts included a different project each month: the picnic for underprivileged children and a fund raising drive for the Arthritis Foundation. By producing the annual AOII Musical, the girls of the sorority raised a sizable amount for the latter organization.

Alpha Xis Sponsor Showcase

Alpha Xi Delta sponsored the Mr. and Miss Collegiate Showcase to raise money for Pittman Hall, a school for delinquent girls in Albany, New York. Mr. and Miss Collegiate were announced as Larry Cartwright and Carol Harris.

The sorority also held an ice cream supper for philanthropy. Social activities included Halloween and Christmas parties, a hayride and a skating party, blue and gold weekend, during which they held their formal and a bonfire.

Alpha Xi Delta was honored this year with having as members the Best Supporting Actress for 1973, the Sigma Phi Epsilon Sweetheart, a cheerleader, members of the choirs and band, and members of the publication staffs on campus.

Versatility Marks KAs

Kappa Alpha members started the year off with a bang as they hammered on garbage can tops, rang cow bells, and shot fire crackers to welcome their new pledges. During the year, the order had several parties, but the climax came during Old South Week in April when the fraternity and their dates enjoyed Sharecroppers' Barn Dance, Mint Julip, and the Old South Ball.

After rush, the fraternity gave all sorority pledges a congratulatory long-stemmed rose on the steps of Sprague Hall.

Members of KA are active in the concert and touring choirs, SGA, theater, and on publication staffs. The fraternity also boasts of having two cheerleaders, members of the varsity tennis and basketball teams, chief justice of the student body, class officers, and several nominees for Mr. Collegiate.

Kappa Sigs Sponsor Pledge Swaps

Kappas Sig fraternity started the year off well by winning first place at Sigma Kapers. In the fall, the fraternity held open houses and pledge swaps with other Greek organizations. Founder's Day in December was celebrated by a banquet and a party at the George-Anna Motel.

Black and White, the fraternity formal was held in the spring, and the annual Awards Party was held in May.

Phi Mus Honor Basketball Team

Members of Phi Mu designated a special week in which to raise money for their national philanthropy, the U.S.S. Hope Ship-Hospital. On the local level, Phi Mus sponsored a Halloween party for Boy's Town. The Carnation Ball was held in November and was preceded by a banquet at the Ramada Inn. To show off their newly decorated room, the women's fraternity invited the other Greek organizations to an Open House in the fall, and honored their parents with a tea.

During Homecoming, the Phi Mus held a reception for the basketball coach, team, and cheerleaders, and also entertained during one of the basketball game half-times with their Washboard Band.

Philanthropy Stressed by Sigma Ks

Involved in many social services, the sisters of the Gamma Xi chapter of Sigma Kappa aided families on the Maine Sea Coast, helped to send girls in Greece to the American Farm School, and visited the Jackson Medicenter and the Jackson Day Care Center.

The sorority also held several social events such as the October dance honoring their pledges, their annual March formal, the Founders, Day banquet in November, and a skating party in February.

Outstanding members include members of Who's Who, Kappa Sigma Sweetheart, Kappa Alpha Rose, cheerleaders, Treasurer of SGA, class officers, members of the women's varsity basketball and tennis teams, first runner-up to both the Banana Festival and the Strawberry Festival, and editor of the Lantern.

Sig Eps Hold Special Projects

For charity and other chapter interests, the brothers of Zeta chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsored several fund raising activities. They raised money for the Lions Club, the Heart Fund, and the Jackson Enrichment and Development Center, as well as for house improvements.

The chapter was distinguished by the West Tennessee Heart Association with the Seroke Recognition for their outstanding contributions.

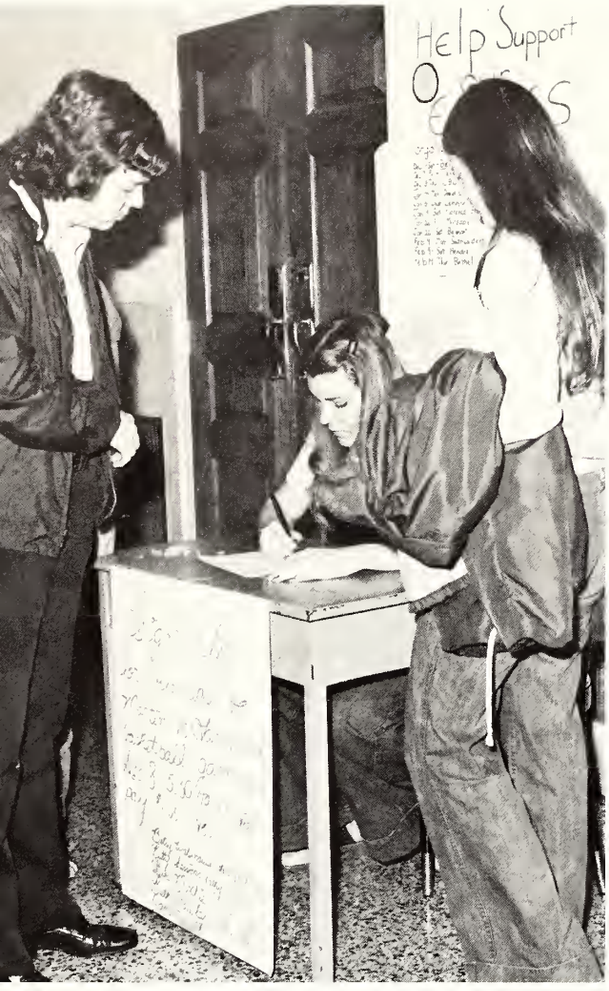

On campus, several Sig Eps were found on the cheerleader squad, the baseball and golf teams, and the Miss Lambuth Committee. On the community level, one brother was the director of the notable off-Broadway production of Godspell.

Social activities include the Queen of Hearts Ball, their annual Regional Academy, and the Senior and Alumni Recognition Day.

SGA Budget Increased

Because of the increased matriculation fee, the Student Government Association was able to sponsor many more campus-wide activities including a dance every month, several films, and a full week of Homecoming activities.

An industrious student senate, from individual dormitory floors was instrumental in instituting personal representation for the student body. The SGA was responsible for remodeling the "Hub" in the Student Union to provide a better atmosphere for informal talk between classes.

Cheerleader Elections Standardized

Committees in the SGA were involved with specific jobs. The Sensitivity Committee sponsored a forum on apathy, including both students and faculty. To increase spirit on campus at basketball games, a Spirits Committee was formed to make posters publicizing the games and to provide student buses to games off campus. Both the Food and Academic Committees conducted student polls.

Brought to the attention of the SGA by the Black Student Life Committee, the Student Senate recognized the need to standardize cheerleader elections in order to insure adequate representation on the squad. The passing of such a major proposal was a step in showing how effective a relatively large body of students can be by working together.

Vision Encourages Journalism

Belonging to the American Collegiate Press Association and the Inter-Collegiate Press Association, the 1974 Vision strived to enhance journalistic interest by producing a college newspaper.

Through the efforts of many students and by the aid of the advisory Editorial Board, the staff produced a monthly edition, striving to represent an informative paper, cutting across many aspects of student life and interests. To further improve their effectiveness, the staff also sponsored a newspaper workshop.

Lantern Staff Enlarged

Focusing on a "Forward" theme, the Lantern staff attempted to present a true picture of life at Lambuth College for the '73-'74 school year. New members were added to each of the sections and a new staff of writers helped put life into the copy and headlines of the annual. The ad section was given a new emphasis as picture ads were included in all sizes over 1/8 of a page.

BSU Fulfills Needs

Concerned with local as well as national needs, the Black Student Union had a full calendar of activities. In the fall, the organization sponsored its annual Black Talent show, and during the Christmas season, the group caroled at Western State Psychiatric Hospital in Bolivar. Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday was observed in January during a special chapel worship service.

"Black History Week," February 10-16, opened with "Black Extravaganza," a narrative history of the black man in America. Later in the week, the BSU showed the film "From Montgomery to Memphis," and participated in "Gospel Night" and Black Arm Band Day, to commemorate the black students who have died on college campuses over the country.

Band Provides Special Entertainment

The Lambuth Band took two short tours this year in winter and spring rather than the usual extended single tour. With 40 members, the band served as a pep band at basketball games while also playing the score for drama productions and providing special entertainment throughout the year.

Choirs Perform Two Concerts

Two concerts are annually performed by the one hundred-member Concert Choir under the direction of Dr. Jo Fleming. First semester, the choir focused on Christmas selections for the Candlelight Service and second semester on "Elijah" and "Rejoice in the Lamb" for the Spring Concert.

Because of the lack of mobility of such a large group, a more select group known as the Touring Choir makes appearances at nearby churches. In the spring, the Touring Choir sang in churches in Ripley, Selmer, Nashville, Memphis, and Covington.

Dorm Councils Increase Responsibilities

Dorm councils, the disciplinary bodies of the respective halls, shouldered more responsibilities this year. Working closely with the dorm hostesses and the deans of women and men, the students set up open house dates on the calendars and planned parties.

A representative from each council attends Inter-Dormitory Council meetings which acts to change rules and policy. The new late permission for upperclass women along with the more lenient drinking clause also added a greater sense of responsibility to the position of dorm council members.

Kaleidoscope Gains Popularity

Even before Kaleidoscope released its first album last spring entitled "Each Season of the Year," the eighteen-member singing group under the direction of Frank Coulter was quite popular. Now the group is even more in demand both on campus and in the Jackson area.

During the first two weeks in January, the group practiced five hours daily to prepare for a three-day tour of Atlanta. The group has also performed in Paducah, Ky., and Memphis for banquets, churches, and high schools. On campus, Kaleidoscope held a benefit performance during Homecoming Week.

Recruitment Aided by Harvest

Invaluable to any small college is a strong recruitment team, especially if it is composed of students. Recruiting new students and raising money for Lambuth is Harvest's primary role, but entertainment is just as important.

The six-member singing group sponsored by Mr. Bill Mace and Mr. Bryant Floyd presents contemporary musical programs at churches, schools, and club meetings. Once or twice a month the group travels to areas in the Memphis conference and Kentucky.

Coffeehouse Papers Recognizes Outstanding Talent

Lambuth's annual literary anthology, The Coffeehouse Papers, was enlarged this year from sixteen to thirty-six pages. The price per copy was reduced because of an increased budget allotment from the SGA.

For the first time, student contributors were awarded prize money for outstanding works. Winners include: Marsha Coleman, poetry; Phil Mueller, short fiction; Preston Yarber, drama; and John Seminara, illustration.

After the distribution of the publication, there was a public poetry reading in the Common Room.

Gamma Beta Phi Probes Purpose

Gamma Beta Phi, honor society for those with a 3.0 average or above, met once first semester to initiate members and to decide whether or not the club should remain a professed "service" organization or if it should become strictly an honor group. A final decision was still pending in February. Plans were made for a second meeting in the spring to decide the fate of the group.

ΟΦΤ Honors Initiates

As a local honorary scholastic fraternity for seniors, Omicron Phi Tau maintains high membership standards. Headed by Dr. Gene Davenport, the fraternity requires that a member have a 3.5 average in his first semester and a 3.25 average in the second semester of his senior year.

Two initiations, one in the fall and one in the spring, are held annually with a banquet following the spring initiation.

Phi Alpha Theta Enjoys Field Trips

Open to junior and senior students with at least twelve hours in history, Phi Alpha Theta is an international history honor fraternity. The activities of the society this year included a series of field trips to various sites in West Tennessee such as the Pinson Mounds, Shiloh Military Park, and the state capitol in Nashville. The highlight of this year's activities was the group's attendance at the Phi Alpha Theta State Convention.

Campus Congregation Sponsors Valentine Party

Campus Congregation had an active year sponsoring the Sunday morning worship services as well as special services such as Candlelight. The Adopt-A-Grandparent program was revitalized and "grandparents" from the Nursing Home were assigned to those who requested them.

A Valentine party was held at the nursing home in which Akemi Nakanishi told the story of her Japanese paper birds. A paper bird on a Valentine was given to each grandparent.

The Campus Congregation again sponsored the "one to one" program in which children from the Jackson Center for Enrichment and Development were given a free day on campus. Good use was made of the athletic center with basketball as well as classrooms where the children expressed themselves through art and music.

Designed expressly for those students interested in a church-related vocation, Kappa Delta Kappa has as its purpose the exploration and discussion of various theological questions and their implications in modern society. The organization sponsors a bi-weekly Bible study session held every Sunday evening at Chaplain Whitehead's home, in addition to monthly meetings at which various topics related to Christian vocations are discussed.

Several civic projects such as the new "Adopt-a-Grandparent" program were also sponsored by the fellowship this year.

Composed of 14 members, the American Chemical Society this year kept up a bulletin board of displays in the Science Building. Science films were shown once a month at meetings. Sponsored by Dr. George Edwards, the club invited speakers to classes and meetings, as well as planning a picnic for the end of the school year.

SNEA Reviews Student Teachers

Composed of education majors, the Student National Educational Association was re-vitalized this year. Members of SNEA served on a board which reviewed student teachers from Lambuth, held a Christmas party for mentally retarded children, attended a state convention in Memphis, and held a tea in the spring for co-operating teachers of the student teacher program.

Monthly programs included mock interviews, discussions of cur rent educational legislation, job possibilities, European slides, and comparing the British school syster to the American.

A.I.D. Formed

Since the interior design program was started last year, Mr. Larry Ray and Mrs. Nelle Cobb decided to sponsor the Lambuth College Student Chapter of the American Institute of Interior Designers. The purpose of this club was to stimulate interest in interior design and architecture. Many field trips and workshops to refinish furniture and make floor plans were included in the club's plans. Two types of membership are offered: the professional national membership which includes all majors and a general membership for anyone interested in joining.
